

Permaculture Design Certificate Course 2012

organised by Permaculture Southern Highlands

www.permaculturesouthernhighlands.info

with David Johnson, Debbie Hebbard and Jill Cockram.

Tuesday evenings through 2012 at Berrima Public School, Berrima

Outline

The course will cover the background knowledge, design skills and practical techniques of the Permaculture Design Certificate Course. This PDC course will run over a full year, giving participants plenty of time to absorb the ideas. Designs will be developed to cover the range of situations a designer might meet, including backyard town/urban/suburban blocks, larger semi-rural acreage, broadacre farm design and community planning. Assessment is based on presented group and individual designs.

Outcomes

Participants can expect to gain:

- design skills to PDC level
- useful information and skills for living in a cool climate
- contact with other people that share the broad Permaculture philosophy

Fees

The full cost of the course is $600 includes a deposit of $100 required to secure a place.

A discount of $50 is available for full payment at the beginning of the course. Term payments are also available.

Information

Class size is limited to a maximum of 18, to ensure individual attention. Application deadline is Friday 20th January 2012.

Please ring to secure your place before sending a deposit.

Late applications may be considered if numbers permit.

Starting date for the course is Tuesday 7th February 2012.

Contact

David Johnson 4884 4214

Jill Cockram 4883 4399

enquiries@permaculturesouthernhighlands.info